About Cyclo Global

Cyclo-Global is business focused on recycling renewable waste in an efficient and economical nature to create a greener and cleaner society while generating a healthy return. The business will work with an app on which people can register so that every time they deliver some waste material or it is collected then they get points which will be redeemable for money. We will have collection points located around residential areas, some will be operated by Cyclo-Global and some will be operated by independent contractors who will be paid via the same system of point redemption.
